

CELEBRATING THE CONTRIBUTIONS OF WOMEN

Good Afternoon,

March is the Super Bowl of Women's Empowerment.

It's Women's History month where we honor the women who paved the way for the progress we have collectively made over decades.

There are many local examples of women creating and making their mark in our community and the world right now. B.I.G. member Julina Ogilvie just released a book, Money Confident Girls to boost financial literacy levels. Wow!

March 8 is International Women's Day which is a day to celebrate women's progress and accomplishments all over the globe. It is also a day to ponder what still needs done to realize true equality.

Kathleen Kweskin will host us for an empowerment / meditation session where we will go deep and honor the meaning of March 8.

We will honor the day with reflection, connection and great company. Will you join us?

Cordially,

Director, B.I.G. Connecticut
